

World Championship No Show Policy

Any players in the field who fail to show up for their starting time without alerting the committee are considered a No Show. Players who know they cannot play should let the committee know of their intention to withdraw in a timely manner. Oftentimes there are players on the waitlist who are able to fill the spots. The penalty for a No Show at the World Championship is loss all of active Priority Status.